You

You being true

No invisible walls

No boundaries

YOU BEING THE REAL YOU 🍷

After much studying and analyzing the theory behind relationships, we figured that most people have built their relationships on what they think their partners want or what they want individually; too many assumptions, too little genuinity.

One Card Closer has been carefully crafted to help individuals like yourself, to come out of your shell, prompt you to be you.

THE REAL YOU

Enough of pretending to be the person you are not. Life is short, live it to the fullest. Build relationships that last.

Communication is key. People always fail to understand each other, though they think they do. The result of it? Many people who are in love are not together and many people are together but not in love.

This is the first step.

This is the foundation.

This is what any relationship should be built upon.

are you ready?

This game is optimised for two people.
No more, no less.

You will never be you in front of a group, let's be honest. Stop telling yourself that you are okay when you're really not.

We strongly suggest that you play this game only after some time together, in order for the both of you to have loosened up and potentially have gotten more comfortable in each other's presence.

How to play?

This game is broken down into three phases, known as Linguistics , Let's Talk, and Zero Regrets. Bear in mind, each phase will set a different tone to get emotionally closer gradually.

card sequence

( i ) Linguistics

The goal of this phase is for you to know both you and your other half better by learning both your own and your other half's linguistics of love.

Both you and your partner are to play this individually without any discussion during game play. In this phase, the game will prompt you to agree with the best available statement at any given time.

You will notice that there are various linguistics of love in this phase.

(i) Words: Any form of words that makes you partner feel valued

(ii) Presence: Being around physically, allowing your partner know you are there always

(iii) Gifts: Presents, written cards, and etc.

(iv) Assistance: Helping out with tasks, generally doing things for your partner

(v) Touch: Holding hands, hugs and kisses, and etc.

There are 12 example scenarios for each linguistic form. Note down all your findings as per the box below, and compare it with your better half at the end of this phase.

Linguistics	Score
Words (a)
Presence (b)
Gifts (c)
Assistance (d)
Touch (e)

E.g Your score may look something like this. Words (a): 8, Presence (b): 4, Gifts (c): 6, Assistance (d): 9, Touch (e): 3

Interpretation of data:

This would simply mean that spending time with your partner means a lot to you and you will feel much more loved when your partner is physically present around you. In the second spot, your partner's touch makes you feel loved. Words, and gifts come third and fourth respectively. In the last spot, it is help and service, which simply means that this is the least valued linguistic of yours.

Tip:

Once you have gotten to know your other half's love lingo, you will be able to appreciate and love them according to the way they want to be loved rather than the way you have always been portraying your love for your other half.

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are under 15 years of age has increased from 1.1 billion to 1.5 billion (UNEP 2000).

As a result of the increasing number of children in the world, the number of children in the United States has also increased. In 1990, there were 75 million children in the United States, and in 2000, there were 80 million children (U.S. Census Bureau 2000).

( ii ) Let's Talk

The goal of this phase is to truly understand your other half.

This is the phase where you will get to know your other half on a better scale, where you will learn more about them.

In this phase, your other half will make an assumption of what you are thinking and you will let them know what you are actually thinking. Alternate the turn taking process to get the best out of this phase.

Tip:

You will realise that both you and your other half have many differences. It is okay. This simply means that you will need to take their perspective into consideration from time to time to maintain a balanced and happy relationship.

( iii ) Zero Regrets

The name itself has defined the tone of this phase. This is a core of who you are and why you are who you are today. Your bondage will grow much stronger in this phase.

You will be planning activities together. You will learn how to make sacrifices for the betterment of the relationship in this phase.

Tip:

Be honest. Do not be afraid to admit the mistakes of your past. Do not be afraid to commit to the future.

to get the most out of it

(i) Each card is to be answered genuinely by each other.

(ii) This is not turn based but there is only one speaker and one listener at any time. Hence, rotate the turn taking as to who begins first, in order to get optimal answers as you wouldn't want either of you to maintain reservation.

(iii) Discuss about every card in detail. Don't just accept an answer, give your opinions.

(iv) Always ask why. There is no right or wrong, it's just different ways of thinking and opening up to understand each other better.
